

5<sup>Th</sup>
Grade

·Robert Max Steenskist·

Zorrizo

The path of the hedgefox

ENGLISH ACTIVITIES

Chapter 1

Activity 1

1. Write a short description in your English notebook about the fox and the hedgehog's house and draw it.
2. Write 6 sentences in your notebook comparing both animals' personalities; the Fox and the hedgehog.

3. Write in the notebook a list of six different situations of what should and shouldn't happen between friends.

Use the modal verbs Should/Shouldn't/Must/Mustn't.

Example: Friends should talk when they disagree.

Chapter 2

Activity 2

1. Write in your notebook a short description about the picture above. Use adjectives to describe the place as well as the feelings might be seen in there.
2. Read the next statement and write your opinion about it. Use the opinion expressions such us:

In my opinion/ I strongly believe/ From my point of view/etc.

A good company is always a need.

3. Look at the picture taken from the book and draw on it. Use your imagination to give another meaning to it; then write a reflective phrase below it.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Chapter 3

Activity 3

1. Look at the picture and write in your notebook all the feelings the fox might have at that moment. Use adjectives and expressions such as:

Worried about/quite disappointed with / pretty annoyed
at/ sad about

Example: The fox might be worried about his friend's fate.

2. Think about a close friend and write a list of likes and dislikes of each one of you.

You	Your Friend

3. Answer to the next question:

Have you ever felt forgotten or lonely? Explain either yes or no.

Write your answer. (Use at least 15 words)

---

---

---

---

---

---

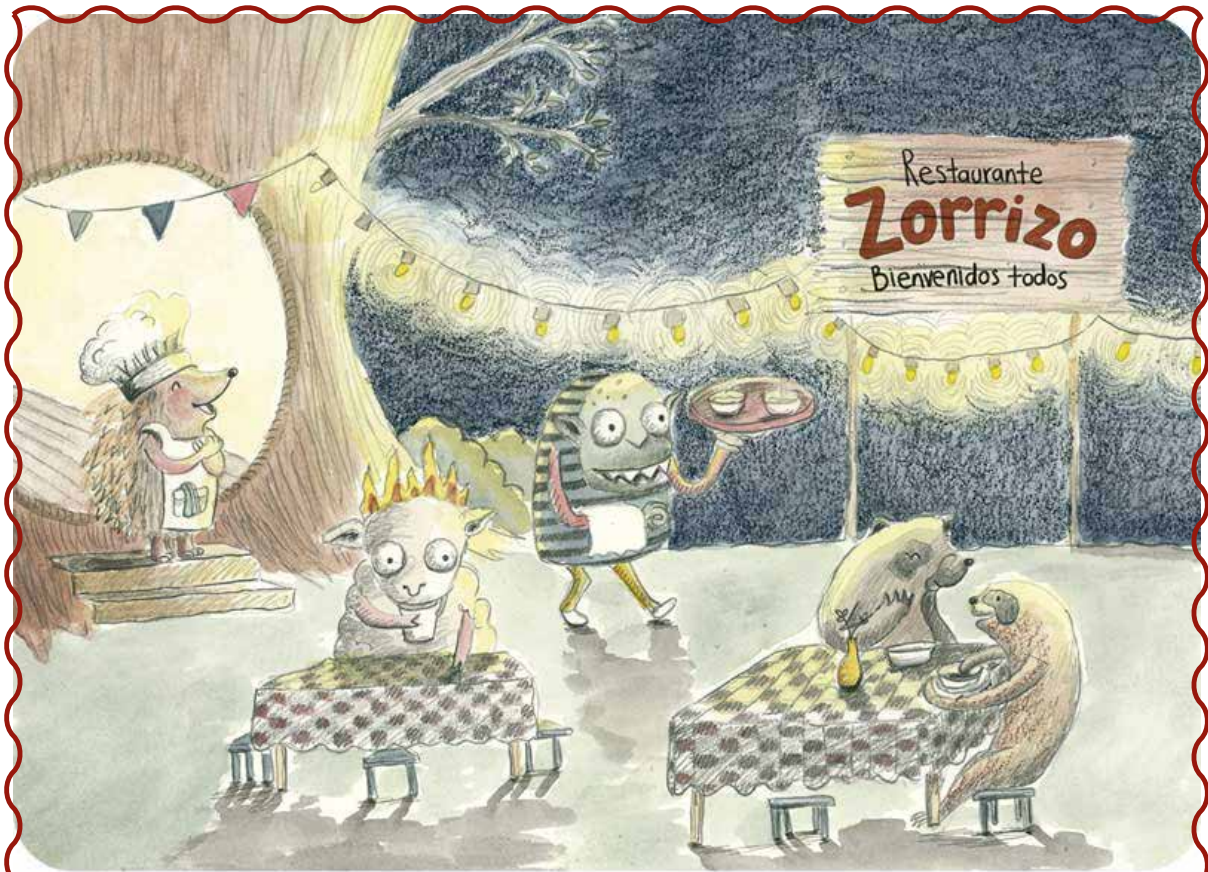

---

---

---

---

4. Look at the picture below and give another ending or add more details to this scene.

Finally, Fox and Hedgehog understood that home is not necessarily a place,

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Worksheets designed by Paula Cardenas and Marlen Belalcázar.

See you later...